Good Morning Chantal,

I hope you had a great weekend. I just wanted to touch base on this order as I was just reviewing my notes and see you have about 4 releases left and have been absorbing the material at a quicker rate than initially expected.

If you have an ongoing need for this material, and will require more as we head into the new year, it may be wise to consider placing another order in the near future so the material will be ready when needed. As you may recall, mill runs for the 304 Stainless Expanded metal can take up to a few months to complete, and it is our goal to stay ahead of your demand in an effort to avoid high pressure lead time situations down the road.

Just thought I would bring it to your attention. Any feedback you can offer after reviewing is greatly appreciated.

Kindest Regards,
Anthony

Anthony Burmeta
